

Sinclair Broadcasting's airing of an anti-Kerry documentary right before the election should not be allowed in a democracy. If I could be assured that all the people who vote have considered seriously the issues involved in this election, I wouldn't be so concerned about blatant pro-Republican propaganda being broadcast as if it were fair and accurate reporting. But unfortunately, many people accept as fact whatever is presented on television. Sinclair should be forced to air a pro-Kerry or an anti-Bush documentary.

Thank you.
